YOU! THE EXPERIENCE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Human health is becoming a subject of increasing importance as the world population grows, as we live longer and as healthcare costs continue to rise. The Museum set out to create an exhibit that presents the subject as more than just our biological makeup and body systems. As the name suggests, we also wanted YOU! The Experience to help our guests explore how lifestyles and personal choices can affect our health and the aging process. We invited some of the country's most prominent experts in all types of medicine to help us present key health concepts, cutting-edge medical technology and real specimens in a way that is respectful, engaging and easy to understand. The Museum thanks the following committee members for volunteering their time and talents to this project.
