GENEROUS DONORS

The Museum of Science and Industry would like to gratefully acknowledge those key donors that made YOU! The Experience possible.

About Abbott and the Abbott Fund

Abbott is a global, broad-based health care company devoted to the discovery, development, manufacture and marketing of pharmaceuticals and medical products, including nutritionals, devices and diagnostics. The company employs more than 72,000 people and markets its products in more than 130 countries. For more information about Abbott, visit www.abbott.com. The Abbott Fund is a philanthropic foundation established by Abbott in 1951. The Abbott Fund's mission is to create healthier global communities by investing in creative ideas that promote science, expand access to health care and strengthen communities worldwide. For more information about the Abbott Fund, visit www.abbottfund.org.

Pritzker Foundation

The Pritzker Foundation's primary goal is to contribute to the vibrancy and vitality of the metropolitan area of Chicago. The Foundation supports educational, scientific, medical, and cultural activities throughout Chicago's neighborhoods. The Pritzker Foundation has helped fund such diverse enterprises as the Frank Gehry-designed pavilion in Millennium Park, the lobby of the new Lurie Children's Hospital, and the A.N. Pritzker Elementary School. Members of the Pritzker family have lived and worked in Chicago since 1881. The efforts of the Foundation both honor our family's roots and hope to contribute to the city's growth and prosperity.

The J. Ira and Nicki Harris Family

The J. Ira and Nicki Harris Family has been involved with the Museum of Science and Industry for more than 25 years. Mr. Harris, chairman of J. I. Harris & Associates, is a life trustee of the Museum of Science and Industry. In 2005, he established the Harris Obesity Prevention Effort (HOPE) at New York University Langone Medical Center to focus on the prevention and treatment of childhood obesity using scientific efforts. HOPE researchers played an important role in the development of YOU! The Experience's content about healthy eating and physical activity. Mrs. Harris has provided support to various cultural and civic organizations in Chicago and around the country, including the International Committee of the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and the Executive Committee of the International Directors Council of the Guggenheim Museum. Mr. and Mrs. Harris have three children, including Jacqueline Harris Hochberg, who serves as president of the J. Ira and Nicki Harris Foundation and Chairman of the Board of HOPE. Mrs. Harris Hochberg also served on the YOU! The Experience advisory committee.

Mazza Foundation

The Mazza Foundation was established in 1957 and was endowed many years ago by deceased members of the Lavezzorio family. The Foundation focuses its grants on Chicago area charities engaged in aiding youth, families in need and the elderly. Mazza Foundation provides vital funding to education, social service, religious organizations, cultural and health care programs.

Robert S. and Susan E. Morrison

Robert S. and Susan E. Morrison have been dedicated philanthropists and have provided invaluable support to cultural and educational institutions in Chicago and throughout the country. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison have been a part of the Museum family since 2001 when Mr. Morrison became a member of the Museum's Board of Trustees, where he is currently serving as the Board's chairman. Mrs. Morrison is a Trustee of the Women's Sports Foundation. Mr. Morrison retired as Vice Chairman of PepsiCo in February, 2003. Prior to his role with PepsiCo, Morrison served as Chairman, President and CEO of The Quaker Oats Company, a position he held from 1997 until the 2001 Quaker/PepsiCo merger. From 1963 to 1967, Morrison served in the United States Marine Corps, rising to the rank of Captain. He was decorated with the Silver Star and Purple Heart for his service in Vietnam. In 1997, Morrison received the "Semper Fidelis" Award from the Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation for his dedication to education and the community. They have five children, three sons and two daughters.
